Last week we transitioned from the Christmas season to ‘Ordinary Time.’ The Latin root is "ordo" which means order. One might say, then, that the season of Ordinary Time refers to living an ordered life. Above all, the liturgical year ‘orders’ our lives around the person of Jesus Christ.

Today is the Second Sunday of Ordinary Time. In the Gospel (John 1:29-34) St. John the Baptist states after having seen Jesus at the River Jordan: ‘Now I have seen Him and testified that He is the Son of God.’ Our true happiness is tooted in Jesus Christ. And so, we begin again to live a more ordered life in our persistent reorientation toward Him. We may have been temporarily dazzled by the glitter of the Christmas marketing empire, but with the re-ordering of our lives at the beginning of Ordinary time, we are dazzled now by the "Lamb of God who takes away the sins of the world" (John 1:29)

Franciscan Parish Mission @ St. Barnabas

Fr. Kevin Cronin, OFM

What else are the servants of God, but his minstrels, whose work is to lift up people’s hearts to spiritual joy...that they might love God gladly! ~St. Francis of Assisi.

Day 1 - Monday, March 6th - God’s Love in Jesus brings true joy!
Day 2 - Tuesday, March 7th - God’s Mercy restores the joy of our youth!
Day 3 - Wednesday, March 8th - God’s Healing brings new hope!
First it tells us that He was the One who would choose to die in place of every human being so that all of us could be forgiven and reconciled with God once and for all times. The idea of the sacrificial lamb is rooted in the Exodus story of Israel which was remembered and celebrated in the Passover on an annual basis. The tenth plague God put on the land of Egypt was the death of every first-born male child. The only way to prevent this fate was to sacrifice/slaughter a lamb (Ex 12:1-30). Some of the lamb's blood was put on the sides and top of the door frame of the house, and seeing this blood, the Lord's angel of death would pass by this house without doing any harm to the inhabitants.

In later history, the sacrificial lamb became a symbol for the atonement of the priests and all God's people on the Day of Atonement and for other religious feasts. By offering up the life of a lamb in a religious ritual, the sin of the people would be spiritually transferred onto the lamb and the participants in the ritual would experience forgiveness from God for the sins they had committed.

So, when John the Baptist called Jesus ‘the Lamb of God who takes away the sins of the world,’ he was making a reference to the sacrificial lamb on a new scale. He proclaimed that Jesus would make a sacrifice so significant that the whole world, not just a few participants in a religious service, could experience forgiveness of sin and redemption. Certainly that was an amazing calling, a painful road and a momentous task. It was Jesus' higher purpose in life. I believe all of us have a calling for a higher purpose in life, albeit on a lower scale than the one Jesus was called to.

While there are many reasons for our existence, instinctively most of us know that we have been put on this earth for a higher purpose. The thing is that often we don't understand our higher calling until late in life, and some of us never really find out. Think about the artist van Gogh or composer Mozart who both died in poverty and fameless never knowing the way in which they would touch and bless the world after their death.

Jesus himself only found out in the last tenth of his life; for 30 years he was a carpenter, only in the last 3 years of his life did he truly live out his higher calling.

Maybe some of us know and understand our higher calling in life, but there are probably many of us who are still wondering and trying to find out what that purpose is. And there is nothing wrong with that; the important thing is that we keep asking, searching, and praying.

And as we do, God will continue to lead us. And as we stay open to God's leading, God will send affirmations, often in unexpected places like the wilderness and from unexpected people, like a locust-eating, camel-skin wearing preacher. The important thing is that we keep believing in our higher calling and that we keep searching for a better understanding of our higher purpose in life. God will use us to change the world if we're willing and open to it.

The Men of the Way of Light
This time of year, many make resolutions to make positive changes in their lives. Resolving to lose weight, exercise more or to spend less money would all have a positive impact on our lives. But what about resolving to build a better relationship with Jesus? Or to learning God’s word? Or to deepening your faith? One step toward these goals is to join our men’s prayer group. We meet every third Saturday in the Holy Family Chapel (lower church) immediately following the 8:00 AM Mass. Our next meeting will be Saturday, January 21st. Please join us for Christian fellowship and spiritual renewal (and a bagel breakfast!). For information contact Fred Kreuder at 987-5350, or by email at stbampg@aol.com. Visit our Facebook page: The Way of Light - The St. Barnabas the Apostle Men’s Prayer Group.

Something to think about - “I wish to restate as firmly as I can that abortion is a grave sin, since it puts an end to innocent life. In the same way, however, I can and must state that there is no sin that God’s mercy cannot reach and wipe away when it finds a repentant heart seeking to be reconciled with the Father.” ~Pope Francis, “Mercy and Misery”, Apostolic Letter, November 20, 2016.

PHASE # 1: PASSION IN LOVE
This stage feels wonderful. It's a kind of better living through chemistry — as the saying goes — because when we fall in love, we are inundated with hormones like dopamine, oxytocin, serotonin, testosterone and estrogen. This is the point where we project all of our hopes and dreams into the other person. We believe that all the promises that our previous relationships have failed to deliver will ultimately be met. We are sure to remain in love forever because this person seems so perfect, so true, so right — like the answer to our dreams.

PHASE # 2: BECOMING A COUPLE
Here love deepens and develops and the two come together as a couple, and this is a moment of unity and joy: “We learn what the other person likes and we expand our individual lives to start developing a ‘we two’ life.”

| Foccus Review: 2/20 Monday thru 2/24 Friday |
| In Home: 2/26 Sunday thru 4/2 Sunday |
| Closing Mass: 4/23 Sunday 5PM St. Barnabas |

PHASE # 3: DISILLUSIONMENT
It is at this stage where a relationship will find new strength or will falter. The first glow of love is wearing away; the perfect ideal begins to show human faults, unreasonableness, unattractive behavior. Little things begin to irritate us. People feel less loved and cared for and more responsible. “Trapped” is a word some use.

At this stage we can get busy with work or family, but dissatisfaction accumulates. The inevitable question arises: What happened to that fun, giving, loving person I thought I knew? The break-up looms; do we just give up or should we try to persist?

PHASE # 4: CREATION OF REAL AND LASTING LOVE
One of the gifts of facing unhappiness in Phase 3 is that we can get to the heart of what causes pain and conflict. After “walking through the fire” the two learn to be allies by learning to console each other in their failings, and helping to understand that human faults can exist amid real love. That understanding can help a couple heal each other’s wounds. We come to learn that if our dreams are “broken,” the one you love is someone who is capable of loving you for being exactly who you are. There is nothing more satisfying than being with a partner who sees you and loves you for who you are. They understand that your harmful behavior is not because you are bad or loveless, but because you have been hurt in the past and the past still lives with you. As we better understand and accept our partner, we can learn to love ourselves more and more deeply.

PHASE # 5: USING THE POWER OF TWO TO CHANGE THE WORLD
This is the stage where differences and doubts have been overcome, trust and companionship are so strengthened that the two can cause differences in the world from their real and lasting love. If we can learn to overcome our differences and find real and lasting love in our relationships, who knows, we can work together to find real and lasting love in the world. This is an opportunity to together use the “power of two” to direct a purpose of life together, in a way that can positively impact the world. A couple that has learned to see each other fully, to accept each other, and love each other in all their imperfections is a couple who, having traveled through these “phases” has a solid foundation for seeing, accepting and loving others.
The purpose of this lesson is to convey the truth about what happens after death, sometimes called the “four last things”: death, judgment, heaven, and hell. While the subject of life after death makes some people uncomfortable, God in his great mercy reveals these truths to us for two reasons: first, to give us a chance to prepare ourselves for that final journey, and second, so that each day we will “remember death”—full of the hope that each day brings us closer to attaining the end for which we were created: lifelong union with God. The glory to which every person on earth is called reveals how we should live our lives here and now.

Conversation After Class

- Who in our family has died that we can pray for?
- Why do you think God created a place of purification after death-purgatory? (See CCC 1030-1032.)
- If you only had one week left to live, what would you do with that time?
- What do you think heaven is like? Why do you want to go there?
Parent & Child Program

Our Time is a class where a child with a parent can become familiar with the classroom environment while singing songs, doing crafts, reading books, and celebrating God’s love together.

- Class sessions are offered on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday from 10:00 AM to 11:00 AM from September through June at Saint Elizabeth Ann Seton Regional School.
- Our Time is an affordable way to introduce your child to the classroom environment without the worry of being separated.
- It allows for the child to be comforted with a parents presence and prepare for entering Pre-K.
- Our Time is taught by Mrs. Sabina Lamb. Mrs. Lamb is also the leader of the Family Liturgy Music Ministry. Contact Sabina Lamb 781-9834
