There are so many different types of signs, and we’d be lost without them. Signs on the rectory door that tell you where we are, whether ‘at lunch’ or ‘back shortly.’ Signs around the property that tell us where we’re going. Or the new STOP sign that was recently installed on Bedford Ave. What a difference one sign makes! It calms the traffic and makes us attentive to the children and adults crossing that street. Signs are a big part of our lives, bigger than we realize. Throughout the Summer we have been listening to John’s gospel. He tells how large crowds kept following Jesus because they saw the signs that He was doing – healing the sick and feeding five thousand. For Jews like Jesus and those who followed Him, signs had a deep meaning. They were familiar with the scriptures and they knew that God gave signs to signify the truth of something. God gave Noah the rainbow as a sign that God would never again destroy all the living creatures on the earth. To this day that sign endures, so that whenever we see a rainbow, we can remember God’s promise. Now here is Jesus making claims that God the Father has set His seal on the Son of Man. The signs mean that Jesus himself is the Son of Man. However, for the people to believe it and have it turn out to be not true would be blasphemous for them, a grave sin. If Jesus could give them the sign of bread from heaven, then they’d believe. Jesus tells them, ‘I am the living bread that came down from heaven.’ It’s a difficult sign to accept: Jesus’ existence as proof of God’s love, as proof of eternal life. Rainbows make much more pleasant signs to think about than murder and death on the cross! But there it is, the sign that was requested. Every time we celebrate Eucharist, we’re proclaiming that we accept that sign, and that we accept that gift. We accept Jesus as the proof that God truly does care for us and provides for us.

Ryan Pekoff's Eagle Scout Project
My Eagle Scout project is to refurbish the Calvary prayer garden on the south side of the Church. I plan to put new pavers and redo the benches. I plan to accomplish this with the help of scouts from troop 123. In order to raise the money for this project I held a movie fundraiser and received numerous donations. Thank you to Father Adrian, John, Jimmy and the maintenance crew of Saint Barnabas as well as scouts from troop 123 who have been very supportive of this project. All donations are greatly appreciated. Please be patient with us if you see some activity at the side entrance to St. Barnabas near the Rectory on Saturday 25th and Sunday 26th of September. Thank you. Ryan Pekoff.

Dying to Be Happy
We invite you to pick up a complimentary copy of ‘Dying to Be Happy: Discovering the Truth About Life.’ A limited number of copies are available this weekend in the Church. The author explores the prospects of embracing death on a daily basis versus denying it. He encourages readers to follow the advice of Jesus Christ - always be ready for the end of life. Along the way Stepien highlights a spectrum of short, true stories where people rise above the fear of death, including the harrowing account of a child who survived the Holocaust - Stepien’s own mother. But Dying to Be Happy is more than an anthology of grim tales and close calls. It beckons readers to admit the inescapability of death in order to find true joy in this life and the next.

Weekend Sacristan Team
St. Barnabas is looking for anyone between the ages of 16 – 21 who is interested in becoming a Sacristan. The 7PM Mass on Saturday has an opening. Anyone interested must be flexible on the weekends and should be able to commit to this Mass time. In addition, interested candidates must be available and willing to work alongside the other sacristans on major Holidays (Christmas and Easter) and other extra events such as Holy Days of Obligation. Preference will be given to current and/or former Altar Servers. If interested, please contact Fr. Adrian or the Rectory Office for more information.
Pennsylvania Grand Jury Report

Cardinal Daniel N. DiNardo of Galveston-Houston, President of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops issued the following statement.

"The report of the Pennsylvania grand jury again illustrates the pain of those who have been victims of the crime of sexual abuse by individual members of our clergy, and by those who shielded abusers and so facilitated an evil that continued for years or even decades. We are grateful for the courage of the people who aided the investigation by sharing their personal stories of abuse. As a body of bishops, we are shamed by and sorry for the sins and omissions by Catholic priests and Catholic bishops. We are profoundly saddened each time we hear about the harm caused as a result of abuse, at the hands of a clergyman of any rank. The USCCB Committee for the Protection of Children and Young People and the office of the Secretariat of Child and Youth Protection will continue to offer avenues to healing for those who have been abused. We are committed to work in determined ways so that such abuse cannot happen. The Pennsylvania grand jury report covers a span of more than 70 years. In 2002 the U.S. Catholic bishops adopted the Charter for the Protection of Children and Young People, which commits us to respond promptly and compassionately to victims, report the abuse of minors, remove offenders and take ongoing action to prevent abuse. This Charter was revised and updated in 2011 and again in 2018. We pledge to maintain transparency and to provide for the permanent removal of offenders from ministry and to maintain safe environments for everyone. All policies and procedures regarding training and background check requirements are made publicly available by dioceses and eparchies. We pray that all survivors of sexual abuse find healing, comfort and strength in God's loving presence as the Church pledges to continue to restore trust through accompaniment, communion, accountability and justice."

Church Leaders Urge Laity-led Inquiry Into Abuse Claims Against Archbishop

U.S. Catholic church leaders have been calling for an internal investigation into the handling of allegations of abuse and sexual misconduct against Archbishop Theodore E. McCarrick and urging such an inquiry be spearheaded by laypeople. "I think we have reached a point where bishops alone investigating bishops is not the answer. To have credibility, a panel would have to be separated from any source of power whose trustworthiness might potentially be compromised," said Bishop Edward B. Scharfenberger of Albany.

In an Aug. 6 statement, the bishop said he was "heartened by my brother bishops proposing ways for our church to take action in light of recent revelations" and he agreed "a national panel should be commissioned, duly approved by the Holy See." But he emphasized the laity have a crucial role to play in this work.

Similarly, Cardinal Blase J. Cupich of Chicago, former head of the U.S. bishops' committee on child and youth protection, told America magazine that he supports an investigation into the handling of allegations of abuse and sexual misconduct against the archbishop that includes laypeople.
Catholic Death Penalty Opponents Praise Pope's Catechism Revision

Joining other Catholic death penalty opponents, the chairman of the U.S. bishops' domestic policy committee praised the Aug. 2 announcement that Pope Francis had ordered a revision of the Catechism of the Catholic Church calling the death penalty "inadmissible." (Read more about the change to the Catechism at LICatholic.org)

Bishop Frank J. Dewane of Venice, Florida, chairman of the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops' Committee on Domestic Justice and Human Development, said the bishops welcomed the revision change. In an Aug. 3 statement, he stressed: "All human beings are created in the image and likeness of God and the dignity bestowed on them by the Creator cannot be extinguished, even by grave sin, such that all persons, from conception until natural death possess inalienable dignity and value that points to their origin as sons and daughters of God." He said the USCCB has called for an end to the death penalty in the U.S. for decades.

"I am overjoyed and deeply grateful to learn that Pope Francis closed the last remaining loophole in Catholic social teaching on the death penalty," said Sister Helen Prejean, a Sister of St. Joseph of Medaille, who is a longtime opponent of capital punishment.

The Society of St. Vincent de Paul
In today’s Gospel, Jesus tells us that “Whoever eats My flesh and drinks My blood remains in Me and I in him.” As we know, our loving God cannot be seen by our eye, but only experienced through loving people. Jesus absolutely does not want to let go of us. He looks for all sorts of ways to convince us that He loves us so much that He wants to enjoy our company for all eternity. Jesus feeds us with His own body and blood, spiritual food that brings the very life and love of God into our hearts. Jesus promises that when we receive Him in communion, He lives in us and we live in Him. The Eucharist strengthens us for our daily dying and rising, our daily giving of ourselves for the sake of others so that we all might share more abundantly in divine life. With love for your neighbors who have nothing, look around your house and see if you have any clothing you no longer use - and give it to the Society of St. Vincent de Paul. The bins are located between the church and the school.

Catholics for Freedom of Religion
Hear Ye! Hear Ye! All Celebrate in Public Schools, K-12! Constitution Week: September 17th - 23rd. On September 17, 1787, the United States Constitution was adopted and is our most important document. Our country is unique in that our Constitution acknowledges that a government’s power comes from the people and not from a king, ruler, or dictator. The Founding Fathers, and many Americans in the early years of the Republic, regarded the Constitution as a miracle. Americans praised the competence, wisdom, and motivations of those who served in the federal convention of 1787. They declared that the formation and adoption of our new system of government represented a political achievement unprecedented in human history. U.S. Public Law 108-447 requires that all Public Schools receiving federal funds must teach about the Constitution on September 17th every year. Constitution Week is to be celebrated from September 17th - 23rd. The Dept. of Education and most State Education Departments provide many suggestions for lesson plans. There is much to teach and to learn about this document. that the Founders believed was “influenced, guided and governed” by the hand of God. They believed the Constitution was destined to bless all mankind and that it was “incumbent on their successors” to preserve and defend our national charter of liberty. “The happy union of these states is a wonder; their Constitution is a miracle; their example the hope of liberty throughout the world.” - James Madison, Founding Father.

If you wish to arrange a baptism, please contact the rectory at 785-0054. Once your request is received you will be invited to meet one of the priests. This meeting offers parents an opportunity to review the baptism ceremony and set the date. The meeting is more conversational than instructional. Forms need to be completed giving information on the parents, child’s date and place of birth, as well as the names and religious affiliation of the sponsors. At least one sponsor must be a practicing Catholic.

Baptisms are held on Saturday at 11:30 AM, and Sunday at 1:30 PM, when the Church is available.

If you wish to hold a private baptism you must bring a visiting priest to perform the baptism service. Private baptisms may be held on Saturday at 1:30 PM and 3:00 PM and on Sunday at 3:00 PM, if these times are available.

First time parents are required to attend a Baptism Class. Classes are held in the Holy Family Chapel on Agape Sunday, the second Sunday of the month. Crying babies and noisy children are welcome. We begin with Mass at 10:15 AM, when your baby will be welcomed to St. Barnabas, followed by refreshments and the class.

The dates for class are for the 10:30 Mass on September 9. We return to the 10:15 Mass & class on October 14, November 11 and December 9.

In 1808 Archbishop John Carroll invited Elizabeth to come to Baltimore to start a school. She soon began a school for girls on Paca Street. You can still visit the Mother Seton House and the Historic Seminary Chapel which was being dedicated the day she arrived.

We are a Regional Catholic School serving our four parishes: St. Barnabas, Cure of Ars, St. Raphael, St. Frances de Chantal.

Connect the dots from 1 to 10.

Find the hidden objects.
Count how many.

“The one who feeds on Me will live because of Me,” He said.

Help the children find the way to Jesus.
